LOCAL NEWS.

There are afloat 130,000 more bricks for Mr. Thomas.

This evening occurs the monthly meeting of the Fire Board at the Bell Tower.

The steamer C. R. Bishop will take a new triple effect to Pacific Sugar Mill, Hawaii, to-day.

The schooner Malolo sails on a trading expedition, to the Marshall Islands, next Monday.

Ladies are patronizing the Kapiolani bath in increasing numbers, doubtless much to their physical benefit.

The old lady run down on Sunday week has recovered from her injuries. She was cured by the lomilomi process.

Mr. James Tregloan, son of Mr. H. S. Tregloan, Honolulu, has started a tailoring business in Merced county, Cal.

The members of the St. Andrew's Church Association meet this evening at the house of Mr. M. P. Robinson, Nuuanu valley.

All the racing crews, pretty much, were out last evening, their boats making an imposing flotilla in the channel. There was no direct contest.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association will be held at the Library Hall on Friday evening next, October 8th, at 7:30.

There was a bright reflection of fire in the direction of Ewa, lasting all through Tuesday night. A Chinaman riding into town in the early morning, on being asked about it, said he "see it long time; it was sumtings no use; not any house."

Mr. Geo. Cavanagh writes to say that in his reference to sailors' boarding houses, reported the other day, "no slur was intended upon the sea-going community of the Hawaiian Islands." He meant rough boarding houses, "such as run in the seaport town of Liverpool, England, and even in San Francisco—in other words, shanghaiing dens."

Hawaiian youngsters have become infected with the military craze. Last evening, just after dusk, a corps of native infantry, their ages ranging from seven to nine, formed on Queen street, near the Government building. Then, to the music of a tin whistle, they marched, twelve or fifteen weak, down Queen and up Fort street. As this new company is just out of arms, the Legislature will require to appropriate a sum for their equipment.

Missionary Meeting.

There was a goodly attendance at the weekly meeting in Fort-street Church last evening. Mr. Cruzan in his opening prayer, pleaded that opium should be kept out of the country. Prof. Van Slyke read a paper, showing the benefit missions had been to science. Miss Gulick gave a short account of mission work in Japan. Answering a number of questions, she said that there were 10,075 Christians throughout all Japan, which was a small proportion of the millions of people. During the meeting prayer was offered by Mr. Bingham and Mr. H. Waterhouse.

A CARD.

Captain and Mrs. C. Ryder wish to express their heartfelt thanks and gratitude to friends and acquaintances for the assistance and many kindnesses received during the last sickness and death of their brother S. R. Gorham.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY.

Yesterday, the hundred and twentieth day, began with the passage, on second reading by title, of the bill to raise the rate of taxation to one per cent. It will be read a third time tomorrow. A motion for the Molokai committee to report immediately was tabled. The bill to appoint two additional judges to the Supreme Court passed third reading; also that to prevent the adulteration of coffee, and the Sunday bill, that leaves Sunday just about where it found it.

On the third reading of the Appropriation Bill being resumed, Mr. Kaulukou had $10,000 each for two additional judges of the Supreme Court. The same gentleman had the appropriation for the Reformatory School, that was raised several thousand dollars on second reading, further increased from $15,000 to $20,000. With the assistance of Mr. Gibson, he had the item for repairs to boarding schools raised from $15,000 to $20,000.

Mr. Dickey moved to reduce the pay of the Secretary Board of Health from $6,000 to $4,000, but the log-rollers were too many for him. Mr. Richardson took a hand in the hoisting business by making a motion, that of course passed, to increase the item for salaries of district physicians from $48,000 to $50,000. Mr. Hayselden had the item for medicines raised from $10,000 to $18,000. In this connection Mr. Dole threw more cold water on the duck's back, by charging the Secretary of the Board of Health with ignoring the law in the purchase of medicines without advertising for tenders. Mr. Gibson said in reply that the two drug stores in Honolulu gave the Board supplies at less than anyone not in the trade could procure them abroad.

Mr. Kaulukou succeeded in leading the House by a large majority to add $5,000 to the item for celebrating the King's jubilee, making it $15,000. He tried to get $50,000 instead of $25,000 for the Honolulu Fire Department; but Mr. Gibson produced estimates showing that $37,500 would be ample for maintenance and projected improvements, and the latter amount was voted. The $1,200 for the Honolulu Library, struck out the other day, was restored through the intercession of Mr. Dole. An item of $5,000 was voted for perfecting the title of the ground at the fish market and adjoining lots. For purchasing manuscripts of Hawaiian and Polynesian literature from Hon. A. Fornander, $2,500 was inserted. Mr. Kaulukou had $2,000 entered for the pay of a military engineer.

The bill passed third reading, and was referred to the committee on revision, to be reported back to-day.

Police Court.

On Tuesday six cases of drunkenness yielded $6 each. A youth named L. Adler was convicted of assault and battery, his sentence being suspended. John Cruise went over the creek twelve hours for disorderly conduct. Kamala had carried two more passengers in his hack than the license allowed, and was mulct in $7 including costs. Ed. Langley had $10.30 to pay for running down an old lady with his brake the other Sunday. Alex. Arthur, who was with him in the vehicle, was discharged. Che On and Ah Sam went into durance vile twenty days each for having opium in possession. Hung Lee found himself on a lee shore, having $5.10 to pay for assault and battery.

Yesterday $12 was realized from two inebriates. Yong Lang was required to give fifteen days hard labor to the state for assault and battery. Ah Fat grew lean in purse to the amount of $101.20 for selling liquor without a license.

TRADE POINTERS.

There is no need for spending hours of toil in unaccustomed researches among musty archives, when you can obtain the services of a professional searcher of records, such as Mr. Poppe, whose card appears in the HERALD.

Messrs. H. Hackfeld & Co. announce stocks in various staples and specialties of merchandise. Retailers should not go to the trouble and expense of sending abroad for replenishments of stock, until they have examined the goods in the spacious stores and warehouses of this prominent importing house.

Why They are Sick.

Several hundred persons, who probably never earned their salt as workers in any occupation, have recently turned out a lot of essays and books on the labor problem. This is what makes workmen sick.

A watchman says that the multitude of telegraph, telephone and electric light wires in large cities has much to do with the variations and stopping of watches that have hitherto been good timekeepers, and that manufacturers are trying to invent means to provide against this magnetizing of watches.

The Best Tonic.

Mr. Henry Billings, Washington, D. C., writes: "I have used your Daily's Pure Malt Whisky for medicinal purposes. As a tonic I consider it superior to the hundreds of concoctions which are now flooding the land as stimulant liquors."

Try Martineff's Cider. It is absolutely pure. Macfarlane & Co., agents.

The Term "Trade-Wind."

W. M. Davis, a Philadelphian whom we have loaned to Harvard, has recently given in the American Meteorological Journal an account of the derivation of the term "trade-wind." The original meaning of the "trade" has been so far replaced by an acquiring meaning that a popular error has arisen as to the derivation of the common term "trade-wind." Webster's Dictionary says that the trade-wind is "so called because of great advantage to navigators, and hence to trade." Worcester's Dictionary explains it as "so called because favorable to commerce." But looking further back, the following extract from Skeat's Etymological is instructive: "Trade-wind, a wind blowing in a constant direction, formed from the phrase, to blow trade, to blow always in the same course." A step farther discovers that trade is "properly that path which we tread."

It once meant, literally, a 'path.' * The M. E. (Middle English) words are 'tred' and 'trod,' both in the sense of foot-mark. All from the A. S. (Anglo-Saxon) 'tredan,' to tread." The following extracts show the early use of the term, two or three centuries ago, by the navigators of that time. Hakluyt wrote: "The wind blowing trade, without an inch of sail, we spooned before the sea." ("Voyages," iii. 849, published in 1600.) Dampier said: "Trade-winds are such as do blow constantly from one point or quarter of the compass. There are divers sorts of these winds; some blowing from east to west, some from south to north, others from west to east, etc. Some are constant in one quarter all the year; some blow one-half the year one way, and the other six months quite contrary; and others blow six months one way, and then shifting only eight or ten points, continue six months more, and then return again to their former stations, as all these shifting trade-winds do."—Philadelphia Ledger.

How Many Apples did Adam and Eve Eat.

Some say Eve 8 and Adam 2, a total of 10 only.

We think the above figures entirely wrong. If Eve 8 and Adam 2, certainly the total will be 10. Scientific men, however, on the strength of the theory that the antediluvians were a race of giants, reason something like this: Eve 8 1 and Adam 8 2; total 163.

Wrong again. What could be clearer than if Eve 8 1 and Adam 8 2, the total was 893?

If Eve 8 1 1st, and Adam 8 1 2, would not the total be 1,623?

George Washington says Eve 8 1 4 Adam and Adam 8 1 2 4 Eve; together they got away with 8,938.

But if Eve 8 1 4 Adam, Adam 8 2 4 2 oblige Eve. Total, 82,056.

We think this, however, not a sufficient quantity, for though we admit that Eve 8 1 4 Adam, Adam, if he 8, 0 2 8 1 2 4 2 keep Eve company. Total, 80,282,056.

Everybody is wrong again. Eve, when she 8 1, 8 1 2 many, and probably felt sorry for it, but her companion, in order to relieve her sorrow, 8 1 2. Therefore Adam, if he 8 1, 8 1 4 2 4 2 fy Eve's depressed spirits. Hence, both ate 81,896,054 apples.—West Side Sentinel.
